Date: August 8, 2023
Subject: Becky's birthday party

Hi, Ben!

Thank you very much for helping me with my homework last week. That was so helpful.

As you know, the next Saturday is our friend, Becky's birthday. I want to have a birthday party with Nick, Sara and you. Becky and the others are free on Friday evening and Saturday morning. How about you, Ben? When is it convenient for you?

Please let me know.

See you soon.

Katy

Subject: When to have a birthday party

Hi, Katy!

Thank you so much for your e-mail. I was happy that I could help you.

Holding a birthday party is a great idea! Both days are convenient for me. But how about studying for the next math test at the library after the party? Then Saturday morning is better.

Also, I'd like to know what food or drink I should take. My sister works at a cake shop near my house. So, I can ask her to buy some cake.

Anyway, I'm really looking forward to meeting you all.

Thanks!

Ben

Subject: Birthday Party

Hi, Ben,

Thank you for your reply. Studying after the party is a nice idea! Mr. Green said the test would be difficult, so I just thought I should study harder. I'll suggest that to the other members. But actually, Nick can't come to the party because he has to visit his grandparents. Instead, Mike will join.

About what to prepare, can you buy some birthday cake? I think Becky likes chocolate cake the best. I'll ask Sara to buy pizza and Mike to buy juice. I'll prepare decoration. If you have any questions, feel free to ask me anytime.

Your friend,

Katy

Important Lesson from a Nice Gift

Stacy was seven years old and was going to be eight in two days. After she got home from school, her mother asked her, "What do you want for your birthday, Stacy?" Then she answered, "I feel so cold these days, so I want to have nice gloves." "Okay, I'll see and find ones for you," her mother answered.

Stacy was looking forward to her birthday. Finally, the day came. Her mother gave her *fluffy warm gloves where her name "Stacy" was written. She was so glad that she put them on soon. Her mother said, "I'm also happy to see your happy face. Please use them with care." "Yes. I promise, mom," said Stacy.

The next day, Stacy was ready to go to school. She put on the gloves happily. At school, she showed them to her friends. They *complimented the gloves so much. Stacy was so *proud of her mother.

Soon after she got home, she was about to tell her mother what had happened at school. She noticed that the gloves had gone! "Where are my gloves? Did I leave them behind somewhere?" Soon, her mother came to her and asked, "How was the school today? You look a little *pale." Stacy didn't say anything. She was afraid that her mother would be angry if she knew the fact. She was thinking for a while and decided to look for her gloves without saying anything to her mother.

She was walking for minutes. At last, she found them! They were on the *statue of a cat in front of a cake shop. That was *in the middle of the way to school. Someone put them on it. She was so *relieved that she cried. Then there was the sound of footsteps behind her. It was her mother! "Oh, Stacy, I've been looking for you for a long time. Now I understand you looked so bad and went out of home suddenly. Don't mind about that you had lost them," said Mother.

Stacy was surprised her mother didn't get angry at all. "I'm so sorry, mom. But I learned important things from this accident," said Stacy. "What were they?" asked Mother. "I learned two things; one is that I should tell my mistake *honestly because I made you sad. The other one is that I should do a nice thing for others because this time, someone did a good thing for me, so next time, I want to do something nice in return." Her mother looked surprised and said, "You learned a lot from today's accident. Making mistakes is not bad because everyone does. But the important thing is to say that honestly and *apologize for that. Do remember this lesson." Stacy and her mother went home happily.
